Re: Control of Radioactive Contamination

To Our Valued Customer,

We are committed to providing products and materials that do not represent a source of health hazard to our employees or our customers. In recent months reports of stainless steel contaminated with radioactive elements have surfaced in India.

Precision Steel Warehouse, Inc. has requested and received documentation from all our primary mill suppliers that radioactive testing and monitoring procedures are in place for detection and prevention of radioactive contamination.

Based on the certification statements from our suppliers, all stainless purchased by Precision Steel Warehouse, Inc. is free from radioactive contamination.

Sincerely,

Stephen Kraft
Marketing Manager
